WILSON'S MEDIATION OFFER IS REJECTED

JAPAN'S ULTIMATUM EXPECTED TO HASTEN A NAVAL BATTLE

London, Aug. 17.—Japan's ultimatum to Germany demanding the surrender of Kiao Chau and disarmament or withdrawal of German's Asiatic fleet, is expected to hasten a naval battle in the North sea.

If Germany intends to send aid to her Asiatic forces she must vanquish the English fleet without delay.

WASHINGTON TAKES INTEREST IN JAPAN'S ULTIMATUM

Washington, Aug. 17.—Great not be drawn into the controversy, Britain, France, Austria, and Germany have declined President Wilson's offer to mediate. Each claims faith Japan's promise to respect the territorial integrity of China and to restore to China the German positions at Kiao Chau. President Wilson told callers he had no views on the situation for public expression.

BELIEVE ENGLISH HAVE JOINED FRENCH IN ALSACE

London, Aug. 17.—The official statement at noon was devoted to operations in Alsace. It follows: "French troops during rapid advance along the Schirmack Valley, captured a thousand prisoners, and a quantity of artillery and equipment. A visit to the scene of the fighting proved destructive effect of the allies' artillery. Trenches abandoned by the enemy were filled with dead and wounded."

This is the first reference to the allied army operating in Alsace. It is taken to mean that the English have joined the French there.

GERMANS OFFER FURIOUS RESISTANCE TO FRENCHMEN

Paris, Aug. 17.—The War Office announces the capture of St. Blasien in Baden by the French troops and forecast a decisive battle within a short time, all along the line.

Germans are offering furious resistance to the French advance in St. Marie Pass, in the Vosges mountains. The war office announces a French victory at Dinant, Belgium.

Japan's Ultimatum is Received with Enthusiasm.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—The news of Japan's ultimatum to Germany was received with enthusiasm here. Japan expects Germany to refuse the demands and is preparing for war.

Distribute Gold to Stranded Americans.

London, Aug. 17.—Distribution of gold from the United States cruiser Tennessee to stranded Americans began today. All anxiety of refugees was relieved.

German Advance Guard Reaches Wave.

Brussels, Aug. 17.—The German advance guard has reached Mavre, seven miles southeast of Brussels.

BOOZE BROKEN BY DEPUTIES

Quantities of Liquor and Beer Broken in Siream May Get Fish "Stewed."

Acting on an authority issued by Justice Baxley, 100 bottles of beer and 500 half pints of whiskey were broken against the side of a culvert at Folkes creek, out West Main street, this morning.

The intoxicants were placed in a dray, and accompanied by a party in an automobile, taken to the place selected for the execution. The chief executioners were Deputies Will Pitts and Clarence Dalton.

In order to be positive that not a single "soldier" remained intact, Deputies Pitts and Dalton got in the ditch and made sure that none were left alive.

No armistice was granted to bury the "dead." A few of the "soldiers" were left "bleeding" but particular pains were taken that all were mortally "wounded."

There was but little water in the stream, but in case a heavy rain should fall, the little fishes that might be there and thereabouts in contingent streams, will have the greatest spree on record since Barchus made the first highball or gin rickety famous.

If fish in Houston county creek develop mysterious movements and sing "We Won't Go Home 'Till Morning," common mortals that make up the human comedy, as Barchus puts it, need not be unduly alarmed.

The work of fishologists, a cult of highly informed men, has settled the point that the fluky tribe, as our Corn Creek correspondent would say, are susceptible to muscular exercise and mental exaltation when under the influence of fermented corn juice.

The muscles, if well lubricated and in working order, respond to the commands of the mind. The mind is receptive to the instructions of liquor. Then why should not a wisk fish cake walk or bunny hug? A dancant may be the outcome of the booze pouring. A healthy trout with Miss Cat Fish as a partner could do the Tad Polé Glide to the Queen's taste. And when it comes to performing the Dothan Wiggly, leave that to an eel and a perch.

"At any rate if the fish get to 'cutting up,' as Post said, 'There's a Reason.' Keep out of the road to Fishville."

A HEALTHY, HAPPY WIFE.

is the greatest inspiration a man can have and the life of the family, yet how many homes in this fair land are blighted by the ill health of wife and mother!

It may be backaches, headaches, the tortures of a displacement, or some ailment peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, to restore her to health and happiness.

Dr. Pridden has returned from White Springs, Fla.

CIRCUIT COURT THIS WEEK.

A large number of people were in town today in attendance at Circuit Court this week. No large cases of unusual interest are expected to come up at this session.

START WORK ON PARSONAGE.

Work was started towards repairing and rebuilding the parsonage of the Foster Street Methodist parsonage, which was partially destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Coroner and Mrs. C. F. Duncan will entertain tonight in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. They will have with them relatives and a few friends.

Mr. Jack Johnson, who has been connected with Clendinning and Company, left Saturday for his home to spend a few days before going to St. Louis, Mo., where he will be with Simmons Hardware Company.

Mr. D. C. Carmichael and Mr. Mitchell Williams spent Sunday in Montgomery.

Mrs. G. B. White has returned from a two weeks' visit to relatives in Panama City.

Dannie Strickland left this afternoon for a visit to relatives in Pinckard for a few days.

PLANT A LATE GARDEN

This is a good time for the farmers to remember and plant a late garden. Usually at this time, when they are all busy picking cotton, the garden truck goes by default. Not because the stuff will not sell, but because it is not produced. The season is good and it is likely that Irish potatoes would make before frost, and you know they bring 60c a pick right now, and you have to send out of the country to get them. There are many things that could be planted right now that would bring in money later along, and the money will be needed. The folks will need stuff to eat.

SEIZER IN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

New York, Aug. 17.—Both Governor Martin H. Glynn and former Governor William Sulzer tonight announced their candidacies with the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Governor Glynn, at Albany, declared his principal reason for altering his previously announced determination not to be a candidate this year was because he believed it his duty to see that the laws he had advocated were administered under his supervision.

Mr. Sulzer in Syracuse, announced his candidacy, declaring that he still is a Democrat. Sulzer was named as the Prohibition candidate for Governor by the Prohibition State Committee in Syracuse last night. His supporters also plan to have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate in the Progressive primaries.

SAY GERMAN APPEAR

London, Aug. 17.—A Brussels dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, says:

"No German movement is reported toward Brussels, and there does not seem to be further fear of such advances. The German tactics appear to have been badly disorganized by the resistance of the Liege forts, while she still intact."

"Since Friday the advance of the French has become very determined with the result that the French victory at Dinant will prove important."

"The Belgian army is strongly entrenched in the north and the German attack on Haeslen and Diest has been broken up. It therefore is safe to conclude that the position of the allies is excellent. Every day that has passed has strengthened their chance of final victory."

POSSE KILLS FIVE BANDITS WHEN CAVE IS DYNAMITED

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 17.—The tragedy which began Friday with the murder of three employees of the Glen Alum Coal company, when ten thousand dollars of the company's money was stolen, ended early today when five bandits, who had sought refuge in a cave, were killed with dynamite. Three officers of the posse were also killed, making thirteen lives sacrificed all told.

After the robbers were barricaded in a cave on War Eagle mountain, the posse threw dozens of sticks of dynamite into the entrance. Finally one stick struck the right spot, and killed the bandits instantly.

NEWEST KINEATH FROM PLAGUE IN REPORTED

New Orleans, La., Aug. 17.—With the death here tonight of Mary Hooper, a negro, the number of bubonic plague victims was brought to seven. The woman was the nineteenth person to contract the contagion since its appearance here on June 27. She became ill two days ago and died a few hours after Federal health authorities today had announced that a diagnosis had confirmed her malady as plague. She was 40 years of age and resided at 1945 Bienville street.

AUSTRIAN COULD PICK SIXTEEN POUNDS A DAY

On their way to the "old country," Arthur Nines and James Churchill, who said they were Austrians, were arrested on charges of transpiring, and when tried in Justice Butler's court, were sentenced to hard labor on the county roads.

Both men showed a decided preference for some work other than that of road building. One said he was somewhat of a cotton picker, and wanted a chance to demonstrate what he could do in extracting the fluffy fabric from the bolls.

Justice Butler, who realized that there might be a shortage in cotton pickers, asked for records.

"Why, Judge," said one of the Austrians in pitiful English—the operator can't get the dialect on the machine—"I can pick—about sixteen pounds a day."

When sentenced to the roads, the defendants were nervously disappointed, for they wanted to rush to the doors of their native South. They said they had been picking cotton berries at Pascagoula, Fla. One man was heavily intoxicated.

J. H. MARTIN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination as alderman from ward 1, subject to the action of the democratic primary, September 14th.

W. T. Hingleary.

AN UNUSUAL WEAPON.

The telegraphic report of the burning of Rev. H. H. McNeill's home in Dothan by anti-prohibitionists shows one of the usual weapons employed by the enemies of prohibition. Sneaking about in the dark they try to destroy men's characters and their property, seeking to intimidate them and make them desert from their warfare against the most flagrant wickedness of our time. Dothan is in a bad way. A prominent state official recently told the writer that there was no common in Dothan as to be a menace to the well being of the whole state. Dothan is a growing city. Her citizenship is aggressive and substantial. Some of her official life is bad, very bad, and conditions will not be changed as long as certain officials are permitted to retain their offices. Gamblers and tough thugs and rowdies are too important in Dothan for the good of that city. It looks as if Dothan will be forced to resort to harder methods and organize a Vigilance Committee to suppress the home burners and thugs of their community. Law should be supreme, but when officers fail to discharge their duties and cannot be set aside, then every law-abiding citizen should become an agent of the law and see that the laws are enforced against the vicious elements of the community. To refer to Dr. McNeill, the most recent object of attacks by the liquor gangsters. Dr. McNeill is a veteran in this warfare, capable, disinterested and fearless. He cannot be intimidated or coerced. His past heroism and sacrifice is an augury of his future actions. We will find Dr. McNeill on the firing line as long as the enemy of the church, the home and the state continues its depredations on society.—Alabama Citizen.

The European war has overshadowed the Mexican trouble, but there isn't enough other countries in the world to overshadow the European movement, if they want to war.

When a time comes that will force the politicians and the voters into the same line of war, there will be no more war.

IMPROVEMENT IN NATIONAL WELFARE.

Never before were conditions tending to promote the national welfare of the United States so favorable as they are at present. The nation has been passing through a period of transition; the business world has adjusted, or is adjusting, itself to new and changed conditions, resulting from the great wealth and progress of the country. But the inventing people of other nations are asking why it is that our business prosperity is so frequently and seriously interrupted. They wonder why it is that, with our great and growing wealth and resources and our superior advantages, we are not more continuously prosperous; why we are not more stable in prices and values and in general conditions; why there is ever any disposition on the part of any one to interfere with the normal development of American industries.

I venture the assertion that it is largely because of much unnecessary agitation and ill considered criticism by those who have not the nation's best interests at heart. There is too much demagoguery, too much meddling. The man out of office criticizes the one in office, and the one in office in turn seeks to advance his own interests regardless of the effect upon all others.—E. H. Gary in the Era.

It has been suggested that the German Kaiser has heard nothing of himself and his people but good till he has about been "spotted." The subjects of such a ruler probably are not allowed to pass along their grievances to the chief head, but if something happens that is pleasing to the Kaiser, then he is told that. He has been preparing for war on Japan, and taxing the people so heavily, till he evidently now feels that it is time to deliver a war and show the people that he was right in preparing for war.

A doctor in this town who knows enough about humanity to give the sick what they want some times, says that he has some patients that he dare not give any kind of medicine, but a slightly pink, or white mixture, with a mild flavor that isn't bad, while he has others whom he dare not give a dose to unless it be bitter as gall, and stinks to Mexico and back. The latter class wouldn't call him unless his medicine was bad to take, and "strong."

Mrs. O. H. Belmont is in the papers more than she should be. If that woman hadn't never been connected with more than a thousand dollars you couldn't find her in a "Who's Who" book in her own neighborhood. Money helps to advertise some people wonderfully.

If there could be some arrangements to establish a cotton market in this country down in the cotton belt wouldn't care much about the war. There is no money panic now, but there is nothing certain about the market and the buyers are not taking any chances.

As long as nations meet on the fields of war—as long as they question the relations of savages to each other—as long as they put the laurel and the oak on the brows of those who kill—just so long will citizens resort to violence, and the quarrels be settled by dagger and revolver.—Robert G. Ingersoll.

About time now for the people to come back home who went away to recuperate during the summer. When they have been home for a month, and got thoroughly rested from their debauch, they will be in almost as good shape as they were before they went away.

A "Pest" Doesn't Pay.

At Jennings, ex-banquit, defeated for governor of Oklahoma, probably will agree with Evelyn Thaw that it does not pay to have "pest"—Columbus, (Ga.) Enquirer-Buzz.

Effect of Little Office on Little Man.

Did you ever notice how a little office makes a small man feel big?—Guntersville Democrat.

Makes Pot From One Cent Piece.

A man in Bridgewater, Mass., is said to have fashioned a kitchen pot from a 1-cent piece. It would be interesting to learn how far that man could make a dollar go in the matter of providing things to put in a kitchen pot.—The Decatur Daily.

Hold Your Cotton.

Let everybody pick their cotton, having every lock, for since England has gotten into war it can't last very long, and then when it is over we may look for at least a twelve cent price.—Tuskegee News.

Freight Rates Too High.

The president of the Southern Pickle Company at Birmingham writes to a citizen of Livingston that upon investigation, learns that freight rates from this point will stand in the way of locating a factory here. This is the situation at towns in Alabama where there is but one railroad, it appears. What the railroad commission may be able or willing to do in the matter is uncertain, and at this time is not encouraging.—Livingston Home.

War Developing a Spirit of Nationality.

The Poles are not fond of the Russians, but they are less fond of the Austrians and the Prussians; and are giving the war such earnest support that there is talk in St. Petersburg of enfranchising their municipalities and permitting the use of the Polish language in the schools of Poland. The war is developing the spirit of nationality in unexpected places.—Mobile Register.

For the Car Instead of the Driver.

A man has invented a preparation to take the place of gasoline in running automobiles. He says it is a chemical which you can mix with water and can be purchased at any drug store. Some men have been purchasing chemicals and mixing the mixture with water and running automobiles for a long time. It is to be hoped that the new mixture is to be applied to the engine instead of the driver.—Prattville Progress.

War Will Not Help This Country.

Some say that war will benefit this country but they must be mistaken, because war is simply destruction and the destruction must be paid for and this of itself reduces the medium of exchange to such an extent as to make prosperity impossible in war times.—Foley Outlook.

An Optimistic View.

There is no use to get long faced about the war, boll weevil or the price of cotton. The war will end, the boll weevil will be whipped and the farmer will get a good price for the present crop of cotton. Let's all pull together for our mutual interests.—Laverne Journal.

End Seat Variety?

There has been a "slump in hogs" but it is hard to notice it some times at the movies.—Anniston Star.

War Will Stimulate Study of Geography.

At least the war ought to stimulate the study of European geography in this country, and, while we may fall down on most of the names, we can at least get a mental picture of the physical contour of the several nations involved, see the location of the towns, cities and rivers, and thus be able to read the daily story of the war with much more intelligent appreciation.—Lakeland (Fla.) Telegram.

By Frank G. Monte.
 New York, Aug. 17.—Some day
 the "wildfire" of the Chicago Cubs
 is going to lure Larry McLean,
 of the Giants, to a sequestered spot, and the European war will be a tea party in comparison with what will happen
 then.

Francis has been gunning for Larry ever since the Cubs were here on their recent visit. Larry played a trick on Francis during that period.
 It was one that made Schulte look foolish and Schulte got peeved because he doesn't like to look that way.

It was in the third game of the series. Heinie Zimmerman had singled. Bill Klem was napping and McLean was catching. Up stepped Schulte. He promptly laced one down along the first base line and started toward first like a bullet.

"Foul!" roared a voice from the vicinity of home plate.

Schulte stopped sprinting when he heard the voice and started back toward home plate. Zim, who almost had reached second when the voice was heard, stopped in his onward dash, and trekked back toward first.

While the Cub runners was doing a "go-back" the Giant right fielder retrieved the ball and shot it to Larry Doyle, who at once whipped it to Merkle. Merkle tagged Zim and then shot the ball to McLean who applied it to the framework of Schulte why by that time was proceeding about the business of taking his position in the batter's box and getting another swipe at the ball.

"Hey, whatcha doin'?" roared Schulte as McLean tagged him.

"That ball was foul!"

"No, it was not," intercepted Umpire Klem. "The ball was fair. But you need not worry. Neither need Mr. Zimmerman. You both are safe.
 You, Mr. Schulte, will proceed to the first station, and you, Mr. Zimmerman, pointing to the excited Heinie who had rushed into the melee to find what it was all about, "you Mr. Zimman, will go to second."

By this time the entire Giant and Cub teams were clustered around Klem and gesticulating wildly. Klem pushed away a few of the players that were closest to him, probably to give himself a little air, and then with studied accents, explained the situation.

"It's this way, gentlemen," he said. "I am regularly authorized behind-the-plate-umpire in this game and I am going to do the very best I can. I feel that my judgment is good in most things—that I do not need assistance. But our mutual friend," pointing to McLean, "seems to think slightly otherwise."

"In this case, gentlemen, when Mr. Schulte hit the ball it landed in fair territory. It went right along side of the chalk lines but it was fair. I so declared myself in my decision. However, at the very moment I uttered my decision, our mutual friend, Mr. McLean, also uttered one. He bespoke himself of the single word 'Foul.' His voice, gentlemen, silenced mine in the tumult."

"Therefore, Mr. Schulte came back to the plate and Mr. Zimmerman returned to the first station, assuming that the voice that called 'Foul' was mine. But as I have stated it was not mine. It belonged to Mr. McLean. And so, gentlemen, we will resume play by putting Mr.
 Schulte on first, where he rightfully belongs and placing Mr. Zimmerman one second. Batter up—"

All this happened near the finish of the game. Schulte got close enough to McLean to hiss some unkind words in his ears before the game was over. But he got no closer.
 The next day it was the same.
 Of course, Francis could have rushed up and soaked Larry on the nose,
 but that might have caused Francis a $25 fine by the umpire and perhaps a $10 fine in police court.
 These he had time, so Francis didn't do any public soaking.

But he's hiding his time. Some day he'll get Larry in a dark place and knock—or attempt to knock—from Larry all those ideas that he may have that he's a better umpire than Bill Klem.

WIRELESS IN THE EUROPEAN WAR

By a Military Expert.

In wars of the nineteenth century an army spent much time in attempting to cut an enemy's telegraph and telephone wires. To break the transmission of dispatches
 today is practically impossible, thanks to Mr. Marconi and co-inventors.

Do you realize that the two allies against Germany and Austro-Hungary, France and Russia, are probably in constant touch every hour indeed every minute, of the day and night?

They can talk right over Germany, Moscow and Paris can co-operate perfectly. Probably General Joffre and Grand Duke Nicholas-vich know each of them what the other's forces are doing from hour to hour.

An incident of the Balkan war shows the remarkable possibilities of wireless. The allies bottled up Adrianople, holding all roads to Constantinople. But in the city was a 1 1/2 k. w. Marconi wireless telegraph station of the portable type.
 At no time did the station fail, and in the course of the siege, more than 450,000 words were transmitted to headquarters without a hitch.

The allies attempted to stifle the station by placing wireless outfits to the east and west of Adrianople, but their attempt to "jam" the Turkish signals was in vain.

The usefulness of wireless was also shown in the recall of certain ships at the outbreak of the present war. One ship was brought back after she had proceeded within two days' journey of Europe, and thus was saved from the enemy.

Many small craft have been seized, because they were at sea at the outbreak of hostilities, and had no wireless. The effect of this experience will undoubtedly be the cause of a wide use of air communications as a kind of assurance against capture by a hostile warship.

LAST WEEK OF O. P. GREEN'S
 BIG SALE.

Oscar Green has put prices on summer clothing and furnishings that are lower in many instances than the same quality of goods have ever been offered here before. Oscar thought he made a record for low prices at his big fire sale last summer, and he did, but this year he is breaking that record by selling new, undamaged goods at lower prices in many instances than he did in the fire sale.

He wants to impress on his friends and customers who have not yet been supplied from this sale
 that they will have to come quickly, as the sale will positively close the 15th.

PAINT:
 There are two good reasons for painting often enough or even too often. One, to look prosperous, two to be so.

Nothing does one more credit or gives one more credit than paint, supplemented of course by what goes with it and paint costs nothing.

True, the first cost is $5 or $6 a gallon put on; but it saves more than that in the property; saves it from slow going down—not always slow—it drops with a jump when water gets in on wood and iron.

Dry wood and iron cost nothing,
 kept dry by paint.

Better paint when it needs it.
 Paint never goes down in the sense of being more profitable next year.

A high compliment was paid Mrs. Ethel Hilyer Harris, of Rome, prominent member of the Xavier Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and writer of prominence, when she was appointed to write the "Tribute" to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, on the occasion of her final homecoming to Rome. Mrs. Harris was a classmate of Mrs. Wilson and an intimate friend during the early years of her life.

In writing to friends of the funeral of Mrs. Wilson, who was herself an active and enthusiastic clubwoman, Mrs. Harris said:

"It was a sad day when we laid her old class mates attended the services at the church and cemetery in a body. There never was seen such a marvelous display of floral offerings as were sent from all over the United States. Black and white people stood with bared heads at the grave and stayed through a storm of pouring rain. The town was draped in mourning and the streets and yards were so clean and carefully kept. The bells tolled and all during the funeral services you could hear a pin fall. Tears of genuine grief fell for the former Rome woman so generally loved as a girl and so esteemed as the first lady of the land. The clubwomen were, too, out in a body. The clubwomen were planning to give a royal home coming week in October with Mrs. Wilson as the guest of honor, and on this sad occasion all their energies were directed toward giving their love for her in the way they could."

Now is the time to use lines. We have lots of them now. One Grocery Co.

DO IT NOW.
 If you've something unpleasant to do that you dread
 Why not do it?
 Why postpone it, and worry, and bother your head?
 Just do it!
 Postponing won't make it more favorable for you.
 Or a bit more attractive to look forward to.
 If there's something distasteful you have just got to do.
 Why, do it!
 You'll find that you've got a big load off your mind.
 If you do it.
 The worry was worse than the work, you will find.
 If you do it.

A SILENT PRAYER.
 Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight, give us a girl with skirts not so tight; give us a girl whose charms, many or few, are not exposed by too much "peek-a-boo"; give us a girl, no matter what age, who won't use the street for a van-deville stage; give us a girl not too sharply in view, dress her in skirts that the sun can't shine through; give us the dances of days gone by, with plenty of clothes and steps not so high; put turkey trot, capers and butter-milk slides, hardy-gurdy twists and wiggle-tail glides, heart-cats and bunny-hugs, all on a level, are products of hell inspired by the devil. Oh, let us feast our optics once more, on the pure sweet women so common of yore. Time turn backward and grant our request for God's richest blessing—but not undressed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

STALLINGS-FORRESTER.
 An interesting wedding and one which comes as a surprise to their friends, was that of Miss Gussie Mae Stallings to Mr. Floyd Forrester, which was solemnized Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on North Outers street. Rev. H. H. McNeill officiating.

The wedding was a very quiet one, witnessed by only the family of the bride and Mr. Audrey Forrester of Cordele, the groom's cousin.

Mrs. Forrester was attired in a handsome blue suit with hat to match. She is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Z. K. Stallings, and is a charming girl, possessing many fine traits of mind and heart which have endeared her to a large circle of friends.

Mr. Forrester is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Forrester. He holds a responsible position with the Cordele Realty Company.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Forrester left in a car for Cordele, Ga.
